

Sprint 1 Review

The goal of this sprint was to create a basic application to build off of in future sprints, and for team members to get setup and familiarize themselves with the technology we will be using. Overall, this sprint was successful. Each team member now has access and experience using the tools and software our project will use, and the team successfully created a simple demo project which we can base future versions off.

Retrospective

One change our team could make to improve our progress is to do more coordination between members. This sprint was largely individual, but teamwork will be helpful in the future.
